STREET SPRINKLING.

"One of the best investments any county in California can make is a roadsprinkling outfit. It has been tried thoroughly in several counties, notably in Napa, and the consensus of opinion is that the plant and cost of operating it pay for themselves in a very short time. The sprinkling of roads in the summer keeps the surface of the roadway packed and prevents the formation of chukholes in the dry season and mudholes in the wet. Wherever systematic sprinkling of country roads has been tried it has proved entirely successful, so much so as to encourage imitation elsewhere." The foregoing is from the Chronicle. In Hawaii the roads are in many places for long distances through sparsely settled regions, so that the few inhabitants on their route are glad enough to have roads at all without having them watered. But in Honolulu some of the streets get too much water while others get none. The sprinkling is a private enterprise here, and it might be extended if people lacking the service would subscribe money for the purpose. Some medical men think that the wetting of the streets is bad for the public health, and might be discontinued in favor of sweeping off the constantly accumulating dust. It seems to be, however, a choosing the least of two evils. The steam from evaporation of the water can hardly be so injurious to the lungs as the fine dust. If we had hard pavements on our roadways a sweeping every day and a washing on Saturday evenings would be the proper business. Upon the business streets, as things are now, the occupiers of stores ought to be allowed to wet down the dust with spray nozzles for a given hour every morning. You know how the streets of Jerusalem were kept clean.

It is highly praise worthy on the part of Mr. Wirth to devote the proceeds of a performance by his circus to the benefit of the lepers on Molokai. How would it do for the public to subscribe enough to send the circus to play at the Settlement. The unfortunate denizens would thus have the greatest treat ever given them.

Although the BULLETIN criticized some features of the appointment of Mr. Castle to Washington, as well as interviews credited to him in the States, it is with great pleasure that we observe, in President Cleveland's replies to both Mr. Hatch and Mr. Castle's addresses, that the retiring Minister has left an excellent impression of his brief incumbency in the minds of the President and his Cabinet.

A Merry Christmas To All Honolulu!

Your old friend, "SANTA CLAUS," received a very cordial invitation from the Business Manager of the "Evening Bulletin" to add his note to the Kindergarten Fund by purchasing a column of space, for which opportunity he is only too grateful.

Now let me see. What good use can I make of this valuable space?

Ah, ha! Ha ha ha! I know! I know! I will charter a train from the Oahu Railway and Land Company, and have a grand EXCURSION TO WAIANAE on Christmas Day. I will give the "New Occidental" a special party. I am so tickled over the enterprise he has shown that I will pay them myself for every lunch service on Christmas.

Waianae fish make the best chowder to be found in the wide, wide world. Come one, come all! and sample at my expense the delicious chowder at Waianae.

Who pays for the 66 mile ride by rail? Why, the people who pay me $1.75 for each round trip ticket, and I will give with each ticket a check for a FREE AMS LUNCH.

What am I going to do with the money I get for the tickets? People say I have no use for money. No use for money? Well, I like that! Aside from the toys that bring to the dear children of all ages so much joy, how do they think I manage to fill so many orders for "sweet charity"? Perhaps it never occurred to them that I frequently take a hand in paying off church debts or supplying funds to build new ones. Just now, I propose to give the good Methodist people a helping hand in their effort to rear a house of worship free from debt. But since the dear people are so anxious to know what I am going to do with the dollar and seventy-five cents I have asked each one to pay for a delightful ride through a beautiful country with charming scenery, a free bath and a good lunch, I will tell them that I will pay for their lunch ticket, settle with the Railway Company and pay every cent of the balance (a fair percentage of the whole) to the Methodist Church Building Fund.

Surely, no one will accuse me of "begging," either for myself or the Church; I simply ask them to a treat to themselves and their loved ones to a delightful outing, and in blessing themselves, they will also help a worthy cause.

Train will leave the Honolulu Station for Waianae Christmas morning at 9:15 and return at 3:30 P. M. Round trip ticket and lunch check, $1.75. Be good to yourselves and come along.
